

Scarves for the RAF Veterans

Scarf on the left is for a man and is plain, the other for a lady. I don't have specific pattern, but I am told the length is 170cm or a little less. If you look carefully they are knitted width ways in garter stitch. 20 sts is 10cm and they will stretch, so I estimate 300sts. You will need a circular needle used flat for this.

They should be done in red, white and blue, I don't think the shade of blue is too important, but not light blue. The darker blue is hard to see but looking at the white and the red, they are 10 rows each, so I would guess the blue is 12 rows. I don't think it really matters too much.

The ladies scarf I think is 16 blue rows and 24 white. The red heart is knitted separately and sewn on and fringes added.
